PRIZEGIVING 2015

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

Chairman of Council, Mr Mike Bosman, Mr and Mrs Pearson, special guests, parents, staff and boys.

Thank you to you all for joining us today as we celebrate the 2015 academic year, reflect and look ahead.

In the electronic age you receive a great deal of information about what is happening at school in terms of development including many outstanding achievements and successes, so I am not going to recount a list of these now. But I do want to highlight the ABRSM music results received only a week ago.

In the September music practical examinations, the details of which are printed in your programmes, the school achieved an average of 84%, a good score, but more remarkable is that it is 7% above the world average of 77%. This is a wonderful statistic but equally pleasing is the large number of boys who are learning an instrument and/or participating in an ensemble or the choir: approximately 2/3 of the boys in the school. And all boys hear their peers playing at the Wednesday Music Concert each week.

Similarly, nearly every boy plays one sport a season and many play two or more a season. While going through the reports over the last few days, I was struck by how well most have worked – particularly relevant to their own abilities. When I see all of this I am certainly very proud of our boys.

Next year will see a number of new developments. You have already been informed about the one-to-one iPad programme that we will roll out specifically for the 2016 Grades 4-6s. As you know we have researched this for 2½ years – which I think was the right way to go. We have been able to learn of many of the pitfalls and had time to see that many of our concerns would not be realised. With this will come an increased wi-fi infrastructure and an accessible online learning portal accessible for boys and staff alike. Both of these are being worked on at present.

Above all, this programme signals a real integration of technology into the curriculum in the hands of both the boys and their teachers. Technology in the form of the iPad in this case will become one of the tools of teaching and learning in a very natural way without needing to move to the lab to do a lesson with computers. It is an exciting development, I think, and we look forward to the possibilities it can bring to the learning situation.

At the Pre-Prep we will begin building a new hall/multi-functional space in the current Grade R parking area. It will serve as a venue for assemblies, certain lessons, extra-murals, after-care and so on. Building is not going to be painless and we will have to close the Glebe land parking entrance for the duration of the project. Once this is complete we will re-convert the current hall into the two rooms it was designed to serve as; one a dedicated library and the other as an art room. The current art room will become a full-time music venue for class and group teaching as well as an ensemble practice area. This is something long anticipated and we are excited that it is coming to fruition. Mrs Andrews, who is here today, worked towards this in her last years at the Pre-Prep so I know she will be smiling.

After many requests and enquiries over the past years, we have decided to open a Pre-Grade

R class in 2017. I have always been a bit reticent about going this route, not sure that it formed part of our core business, but considering that most of our boys' sisters are at such classes at their Prep Schools down the road, it has made sense to follow suit. We have already started to receive more and more enquiries from prospective parents so the need is certainly there. It also has huge advantages in terms of being able to make early interventions to assist learning where necessary earlier rather than later. We will follow a very informal learning programme, run on very different lines to the rest of the Pre-Prep and this will be reflected in the style of buildings. Sharlene Groom and I are in discussions with architects at the moment and these buildings will form the 2nd phase of the Hall building project next year.

Staying with the Pre-Prep, I had a wonderful moment last week while crossing the field on the way to attend a meeting at there. I was a little lost in my own thoughts when suddenly I heard the voice of a Grade R teacher or aide calling, "Reindeers, where are you?" I looked up to see a line of angels standing outside the Grade R classrooms with reindeers rushing into sight; out of the corner of my eye I noticed a row of shepherds sitting on the low wall outside Gray House and another line of angels all clad in white leaving the Grade 1 classrooms – one of those uniquely delightful moments that a school teacher can experience. Of course, they were all heading for the Memorial Chapel for the last rehearsal for their combined Carol Service. Walking past the rehearsal later I asked the Grade 1s if I could attend. Their answer was immediate and in unison, "Of course you can, Mr Brown!" and in the background one lone voice saying, "Of course you can, Mr Pearson!" instead.

Turning to staff, Justin Woolls joined us this year as Youth Pastor, Kashiefa Kerven as Receptionist at the Prep, Ashleigh Osborne as a Grade 2 teacher and Sharlene Groom took over the running of Pre-Prep. All have brought something unique to the school and it is great to have them on board.

We also say farewell to three staff members who have spent a very significant portion of the careers with us.

Keith Griffiths – and most boys will probably not be fully aware of this – actually retired from Bishops in 2007 after having taught at Bishops for 21 years and for a number of those serving as Housemaster of Charlton. He returned in 2008 in a part-time capacity, assisting with sport, supervising younger coaches, and running the Wildlife Club with all its activities. No sooner had he started than we launched the annual Gr 7 Tour to Kwazulu-Natal, which he had to research and bed down – of course now it is a part of the fabric of the school, a huge task but it has become a real highlight of the final Prep year. Under his guidance Mothers and Sons as well as Fathers and Sons Camps have become very enjoyed and sought after. So today Mr Griffiths is officially re-retiring, having in essence served Bishops for 29 years. We are very grateful to him and will miss his superb organisation, calm, measured demeanour and all the opportunities he has given boys to enjoy the outdoors.

Gill Wolters has run our IT Department since the end of 1999. Having originally worked with computers in commerce and later at St John's, she has overseen an enormous shift in the use of technology in teaching. I can only imagine what type of computers were in the lab at that stage, now we have two labs, smartboards in every classroom, networked photocopiers, communications and reports online and, as she leaves, the start of a one-to-one iPad programme. The IT teacher's role has changed from teaching boys how to use computers to teaching teachers how to use technology as part of their teaching. There is still, though, an IT skills set that has to be acquired and Mrs Wolters always ensures that the Grades 7s are up to speed with the skills checklist that we want all our boys to have acquired before leaving. Being the IT expert amongst a group of teachers is never easy – there are always a few Luddites who, when things seem to be getting more complicated want to revert to pen, paper and envelope. She has embraced change and development and has had to be the change for us all. Throughout she has remained unflappable, always approachable and patient. I want to thank her for all she has done and overseen at the Prep. She leaves IT in a very different place and poised on the cusp of a new development.

David Alberts has worked in the boarding house kitchen (known as the Bramley kitchen) since 1969 – that’s 46 years of service to Bishops. In the days when he started there were two boarding houses, Bramley and Birt (Birt’s name was later changed to Van der Bijl) and they shared one kitchen. He has worked with at least nine Housemasters between the two Houses and under five Headmasters. He started in the scullery and ended as Head Cook – a brilliant chef who has prepared meals and snacks for thousands of boys, staff and parents, and as we know always of excellent quality. He must be a wealth of knowledge and could no doubt write a fascinating book about the comings and goings of Prep boys and staff over five decades. At a special dinner that we held for him at the Boarding House last week, he thanked Bishops for the opportunities we have given him over many years. Today I want to thank him for his extraordinary length of service, his loyalty, his hard work, regardless of the changes around him and, above all, his patience and gentle manner throughout. David, we salute you.

To all three we say: “Go well; laat dit goed gaan; hambani kakuhle!”

Thank you to all the staff, academic, support and admin. You work very hard to provide a nurturing environment with the right balance of challenge and support.

Thank you too to you as parents. Your commitment and support is invaluable as well as essential in a busy school such as ours. Thanks too to the Parents’ Association Committee under the leadership of Sam Petersen. They have organised a number of very stimulating speakers this year and run a much enjoyed tuckshop at many events as well as Saturday rugby mornings. They have big plans for next year starting with the Carnival in March.

On a personal level, I want to thank the School Executive, Guy Pearson, Vernon Wood and Sean King, the Prep Executive, Chris Groom, Rob Riches and Sharlene Groom for their support. Also to my wife, Lynne, and PA, Alison Cunnold.

I congratulated the Grades 7s at their Leavers’ Dinner on Saturday night on a great year. They have been a happy class, enthusiastic and fully involved in school life. Well done to Jock (Buchanan) on his leadership as Head Boy, both in his achievement and attitude, through the course of the year. He has had to address a number of audiences and be an example to all – not always easy, so well done. I wish the Grade 7s much success and happiness as they move onto College next year. You are ready and will no doubt enjoy the new challenges and experiences.

Today is about reporting back to you, the parents, as well as congratulating our prize winners, boys who have achieved excellence. Other boys sitting here have also achieved excellence but have been pipped at the post by another. But there are others too who have achieved private goals, reached their potential or overcome difficulties, emotional or academic. You all help in your own way to raise the bar and provide the environment in which everyone learns and progresses, and you have all achieved this year. Well done.

Thank you.

FAREWELL TO STAFF

David Alberts receives a gift from Greg Brown

DAVID ALBERTS

David Alberts has worked in the boarding house kitchen at the Prep since 1969 – that’s 46 years of service to Bishops. He has worked with at least nine Housemasters between the two Houses and under five Headmasters. David started in the kitchen scullery when he was 18; from there he progressed to 2nd cook after being sent by the school on a cooking course at Silwood Cookery School. After a few years David was promoted to 1st cook. David’s cooking is legendary. Special meals such as his incredible breakfasts, Sunday roasts and boarders’ Christmas dinners will always be remembered. The Prep Braai was also one of those special occasions when David would par cook the wors and chops for over 1000 people. He is a brilliant chef who has prepared quality meals and snacks for thousands of boys, staff and parents. The Bishops community thanks him for his extraordinary length of service, his loyalty, his hard work, regardless of the changes around him and, above all, his patience and gentle manner throughout. David, we salute you.

GILL WOLTERS

Gill Wolters has run our IT Department since the end of 1999. For the past 16 years Gill has been our “Go To” person. She has overseen an enormous shift in the use of technology in teaching. She has ensured the smooth running of technology at the Prep and Pre-Prep in an unbelievably calm and unflappable manner, always looking for better and more efficient ways of doing things. Being the IT expert in amongst a group of teachers is never easy; she has embraced change and development and has had to be the change for us all. Throughout she has remained calm, always approachable and patient. Gill is a team player. She has a sense of integrity and loyalty and the ability to see the funny side in situations. We have enjoyed her sense of humour and her friendship. We thank Gill most sincerely for her years of dedicated service to the Prep and wish her healthy and relaxing retirement.

LEAVERS DINNER

28 NOVEMBER 2015 HEADMASTER'S SPEECH

Good evening parents, staff and boys.

A special welcome to Guy and Maree Pearson, Vernon and Betty-Ann Wood, Head of the Pre-Prep - Sharlene Groom, Father Wilke, Gill and Mike Wolters (Mrs Wolters retires at the end of the year after 15 years at the Prep) and Keith Griffiths (Mr Griffiths is re-retiring after eight years part-time at the Prep after retiring at the end of 2007 from full-time teaching).

Boys, I want to compliment you on a good Grade 7 year. Jock (Buchanan) occupied the position of Head Boy well, being a senior the younger boys could look up to both in terms of achievements and attitude. Well done, Jock. Well done to all of you who occupied particular positions of leadership in the Houses, music, sport, class and the Student Council. I have thoroughly enjoyed working with the Student Council under Mitchell Labberté's leadership. We discussed many things and I am sorry that many of your proposals did not come to fruition, but I was very impressed by our general discussions, covering everything from racism to mentorship. This year we introduced Anti-Bully ambassadors and many of you were very useful in this role and learnt a lot too, I think.

Overall, I have been struck by how much you have thrown yourselves into school, really enjoyed it, laughed a lot and worked hard. Inter House Singing is an onerous task for staff if Grade 7s are un-co-operative: you were, on the contrary, responsible and co-operative which made the experience a happy one for all and we could see the results of that in the quality of the evening.

On a lighter note, a few incidents stood out: the step haircut and the resultant coiffure and the fine line some of you walked on this road; Joshua Lapid's chess notices; my never learning to tell the Bradley twins apart – my apologies; Emil Teleffson's giant-like growth spurt; Ethan Ellis as our very own crazy but brilliant scientist – a huge hit with the whole school; and Jay Sinha's developing fame as the Indian King – winner of this year's Bishops Got Talent with his Bollywood comedy act. And heart-warming moments: your whole grade giving Leo Gevisser a standing ovation after his last epic and brilliant violin performance; the U13B and C team boys forming a joint team to play an U13B side when Rondebosch did not have a C side for the fixture, knowing they would probably lose, but wanting every boy in both teams to have a last Prep game against Rondebosch.

I want to thank the Parents' Committee led by Nel Buchanan for everything they have done tonight, all their organisation, creativity and attention to detail. You have given your boys and all of us a wonderful evening in a beautifully transformed setting. Thank you too to the staff who have played particular roles in preparing our boys for this evening.

A few months ago I attended a Heads' Conference in Limpopo and one of the most illuminating speakers was Rabbi Kachef, a member of the Jewish Board of Education. He spoke about the results and achievements of education and life for each individual versus the process of getting there, being versus becoming. He said Greek philosophy emphasised 'being' – the results of what we do – for instance – the first prize, being top of one's game, rising to the top of a company – the ideal. How often do we as teachers, parents and boys, focus only on the result whether it's tests, exams, competition results and so on? The Greeks thought the result was all important while Jewish philosophers emphasised 'becoming'. In answer to the question: "Who is the greater person, the one born with a perfect character or the one who must struggle, fall down and pick themselves up again to improve and grow?", the sages of Jewish thinking say it is the one who has to struggle, persevere and work hard who is the greater person.

There is a question raised in children's philosophy courses: "If there was a magic sweet that you could eat that would make everything easier in life would you choose to eat it?" It is amazing how many say "no". As Andy Rooney says: "Everyone wants to live on top of the mountain but all the happiness and growth occurs while you are climbing it." It's the effort and experience of getting there that makes being on the top of the mountain so special – not just the spectacular view.

I attended a Jacques Kallis tribute dinner held to raise funds for his Foundation that provides bursaries to a number of aspiring cricketers at boys' schools around the country (not just Wynberg). A number of people from his past were interviewed by Robin Jackman – the legendary cricketer and commentator – family members, school coaches and right up to Gary Kirsten who played with and coached him. But I was particularly interested in those who spoke about his younger life. All spoke about his hard work – his hours in the nets, his pushing himself, unhappy when he failed, but going back and trying again.

School is about 'becoming'. The new challenges of Grade 8 will involve hard work, longer hours, adaptation and lots of the unknown. A bit daunting but also exciting. I hope you will also take advantage of everything that comes your way at College – spread your wings, experience and do not just do what you are good at and have been doing during your years at the Prep, but try something new and interesting. Audition for the choir, join one or more of the 30 societies at College, and broaden your horizons on the road to becoming all you can be. The more you put in and participate in the more you will get out.

Jewish oral tradition also poses another important question: "If I am not for myself who will be, but if I am only for myself then what am I?" The perennial tension between I and others. The individual versus the group or team. Another speaker at the Conference was Thuli Madonsela, the Public Protector, who spoke about the work of her office and the importance of values in society. Most of all I was struck by two things: her astounding humility when it would be so easy for her to be arrogant about her role; and her constant use of the pronoun "we", we are investigating, we are concerned, our office, when it would have been so easy for her to take all the credit.

If I use my talents to the full and achieve excellence as often as I can (which is fantastic) but do not care too much about what's happening to others, those who fall out along the way, or look down on or ignore those who struggle just to get average results, then what am I? Can we lose out on the top prize or position in the A team and be extremely disappointed for ourselves but at the same time be happy for and sincerely congratulate the one who pipped us at the post or took our place? It's not easy – and it's easy to be glib about it – but it's the difficult moments that make us grow and set us apart. The Mitre values are about the "others" in life. And if we don't follow these then we have to ask the questions: "What am I?"

I have seen some interactions among you this year of which some of you cannot be proud in terms of how you have treated others but I have also seen some very special moments of compassion, when you stood together as a whole grade and showed how much you cared. I have seen some of you supporting younger boys, welcoming and assisting visitors, applauding the success of others on the sports field or stage, offering up your seat to an older person, and so on.

The theme tonight is “Mitre Man”. Hopefully it is these values that you will take with you and use over and over again. Every year Grade 7s vote for the Fellowship prize, known as the Williamson Trophy, voting for someone whose fellowship in the grade stands out, and this year it goes to John Steyn. Well done. We wish you all the very best as you go forward. You carry our hopes with you for happiness, excitement, success and above all determination and courage. We will watch your progress with great interest and care. Make the very best of everything that comes your way. May you walk in the footsteps of Christ, humbly and courageously. Thank you.

Vice-Captain: Mas-ood Meyer

The athletics season is low key in the fourth term with only two small events taking place: the Annual Rhenish Primary School Foundation Phase Athletics Meeting (22 October) and the Paarl Boys' Schools Athletics Pentangular (3 November).

RHENISH PRIMARY SCHOOL FOUNDATION PHASE ATHLETICS MEETING:

The boys participated in sprints with two heats of five per age group for a total of ten runners. All ten runners were timed and the top four fastest times were awarded with certificates. The following positions were obtained: U7:

Tristan Thirion: 60m: 2nd: 9.67; U9:

Carwyn Davies: 80m: 4th 80m: 12:23.

PAARL BOYS ATHLETICS PENTANGULAR

Bishops once again outdid themselves with fantastic and courageous performances by all. Participating Schools: Bishops, Paarl Boys, SACS, Wynberg and Rondebosch

TOTAL MEDALS: 17 out of 24

Gold: 6

Silver: 6

Bronze: 5

After a very pleasing first term of Cricket we embarked on an exciting month of preparation prior to the Cape Schools Cricket Festival which was hosted by Queen's College. The boys eagerly spent the final month of the second term at the Stefan Coutts-Trotter Indoor Centre honing their skills. The first two days of the Festival proved to be a wonderful learning curve for the boys with some sobering cricketing lessons learnt against Grey PE and Selborne. After having Grey 60/6, we dropped a few vital catches, letting them off the proverbial hook. They then went on to post their only score below 200 of the week. The team unfortunately capitulated during our reply with the bat and our first term concerns about our fragile batting line up were highlighted in emphatic fashion by a classy Grey attack. However, we bounced back well the next morning to bowl out a much fancied Selborne team for 123. A super effort with the ball and in the field. Once again, our run chase just couldn't gain momentum and we fell short by 26 runs. In our final match against Union we were able to post a decent score on a pitch specially made in heaven for batsmen and bowled them out well short of our score, demonstrating that there was plenty of potential within our ranks.

I had never doubted our bowling attack and lively fielding displays during the season, but on our return from the Cape Schools Week, we started to falter in these departments too.

Against club and co-ed schools, we were superb, but against our traditional boys' school rivals we were shown up with some inconsistent and disappointing performances. Putting together the complete performance started to elude us in a frustrating manner and we were only able to register moments of good cricket in each component that makes up a match. As a coach, you often ask yourself why this is happening, as we always trained with intent, had a good game plan and the team were highly committed and more importantly, happy. Was it the psychological scares that Grey PE had inflicted? Or the fact that we had consciously tried to ween the boys off concrete pitches and make them play on turf wickets? Losing the toss and being sent into bat on often damp pitches is difficult for any cricket team let alone this group of boys. Relying heavily on a favourable coin toss and then always bowling first was also bound to backfire at some point, however, our reluctance to bat first had to be confronted as part of the boys' cricketing development and education. On a few occasions, having tried to ride out the opening hour in tough conditions will stand these lads in good stead during the years to come and motivate them to cash in on those batting paradises we encountered in the Eastern Cape.

Positions in next year's College U14A team will be very tight with some strong players coming in from Wetspups and our other neighbouring Prep schools. Our boys will have to apply themselves in order to break into the team. However, our lads enjoy cricket and each other's company and I believe will be excellent servants of the game within itself at the College. Sebastian Allison, our player of the year, was our main strike bowler. He possesses a good cricketing brain and has the ability to bowl an awkward length with some excellent movement off the seam. Jock Buchanan bowled particularly well in the first term and can swing the ball away. This ability was always an asset to our team. Mustapha Cassiem was relatively new to cricket, but displays much potential as an all-rounder. His fielding and catching skills were often sublime this season. Sasha Feinberg, our vice-captain helped to lead the team well, always setting an excellent example on and off the field. He has precocious talent with bat, ball and in the field and I hope that this will come to the fore in a consistent manner during the years to come.

Jake Greenberg, who is in Grade 6, had to shoulder much responsibility for one so young in the top order. He too has excellent ability in all three disciplines and was used to good effect to break partnerships with his slow/medium bowling. Rowan Howard enjoyed a dream debut season and ended the year off as our top wicket taker. He also played many solid innings in difficult circumstances, displaying some grit and determination which will be much needed from him next year. Imad Khan, the youngest member of the team is an all-round cricketer of exceptional talent that should come to fruition next year. He too played some good patient innings and bowled with passionate energy. Tim Kotze captained the team and proved to be an effective middle-order batsman/wicketkeeper. He featured in some super partnerships towards the end of the season. Greg Medcalf fielded very well and was used to beef up our lower order batting with his boundary hitting ability. Jay Sinha opened the batting with dedication and determination. He continually worked hard on his game making pleasing strides both as a fielder and a batsman. Stuart Stevens bowled very well this season and showed that he can be effective and destructive with the bat too. Mohammad Roshan opened the batting with patience and intent while also bowling off spin to good effect on occasion.

We ended the season off with a great afternoon's cricket versus the Dads, a wonderful team and family dinner in the Rossall and followed it up with a magnificent day out at the Groot Drakenstein Cricket Club. I would like to take this opportunity to once again thank the parents for their superb support and encouragement from the boundary rope over the past year. Vuyani and I have really appreciated your positive presence and influence on your boys. To the boys, I wish them well in their future cricketing endeavours. It has been a pleasure coaching you.

This was a team of boys that simply loved their cricket. I can see these boys being the cornerstones of club and social cricket in the future. Every match and practice was enjoyed to the maximum with plenty of laughs, even when our batsman's off-stump was knocked out of the ground after an elegant and extravagant "leave"! The boys certainly learned to laugh at themselves and not to take life and the game too seriously. As a result of this relaxed attitude the team performed very well and played with a no-fear approach, which brought the best out of the boys. We won nearly all our matches and certainly didn't "die wondering" in the odd game we lost. Plenty of sixes were smashed as many batsmen were retired after a few overs to give everyone a hit in the team. Everyone also bowled a couple of overs in most of the games and this resulted in a few too many extras being conceded. Mr Extras was often the top scorer for our opponents! Many thanks to the jovial band of merry parents that also had plenty of fun just beyond the boundary, you helped create a wonderful atmosphere for the boys to enjoy their cricket. It was indeed a pleasure to coach this "dream team" this year.

A good standard of cricket was played, with the boys continuing to work hard to improve in all three disciplines, batting, bowling and fielding. The boys thoroughly enjoyed their cricket. I wish them all the very best at the College.

Winning isn't everything, but it brings a great vibe to any team. This term we dominated opposition every time we played. Everyone took part on match days either with bat or ball. There was a squad of 17 players and it was important to make sure that they all got the same amount of game time. We used a rotational system that worked out perfectly for the boys. This meant that they would have at least one Thursday off to relax at home. Due to consistent performances three boys ended up playing in the C team! Special mention must be made of: Luke Beachy-Head for scoring the most runs in the first term; Zac Ahmed and Adam Suleiman also high run scorers; Nic Christodoulou for taking the most wickets for term 1; Sadock Magai for the best catch of the season.

The side consists of enthusiastic and energetic young players who have given their best throughout the season. Their commitment and dedication to the game is encouraging and it has been a pleasure coaching them. The side has improved during the course of this year, especially in the fielding and in the bowling department. I'm happy that the batting has improved, but hard work lies ahead if they want to post higher totals next year. The boys never complained when they were moved down the batting or bowling order to give another player an opportunity. This showed an excellent team culture. Finally, thank you to all the parents for their wonderful support. A special mention to Daniel Holgate for an excellent job as team manager.

Congratulations to the boys on an extremely well-played, unbeaten season. They played each match with great spirit, and individuals stepped up when they were needed. Every practice was hard work and every boy gave his all, on and off the field. I salute you boys on a great season and wish you luck in your future cricketing endeavours.

Getting involved with the U12Cs for a second term was a huge privilege and I enjoyed every minute of it. Results might not have always gone the team's way, but at the end of every game the boys held their heads up high simply because they had played the game in a good spirit. In addition, they had fun, which is the most important thing. As a coach it is always good to see some of the "stand out" players progress into higher teams. There were a number of boys who progressed to the A and B teams, playing two or so games, and a further group who became regular starters in the B team. During the 4th term there was a huge improvement in the bowling department, which had been our downfall in the 1st term. I'm looking forward to seeing some of the boys progress into the 1st XI and u13B team respectively.

The team produced some excellent cricket this term, although the score didn't always go our way. Valuable lessons were learnt throughout the year. It was great to see the boys' love, excitement and enthusiasm for the game. They had a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity of playing a Day/Night match vs WPPS. The experience was far greater than the game itself. Well done to all the boys; it has been a privilege to have been part of your cricketing journey.

This is a team with a great work ethic, which played with determination and passion. The improvements in fielding, bowling and batting throughout the two terms was clear. The team's hard work was shown in the way they approached and played each game with each boy playing his role to the best of his ability. They had fine wins against Wynberg and Sweet Valley and a very exciting close finish to win against WPPS. The final game of the season was an epic battle ending in a draw against a very strong Rondebosch side. Thank you to the parents for lifting to matches and for their enthusiastic support of their sons and the team. I look forward to following their cricketing progress in the year ahead.

The team played really well, and we lost just two games (one in the first term and one in the last term). They played with a lot of passion and great team spirit from the first game to the last. Lessons were learnt as we went through some tough times, but they never lost the passion and discipline. This resulted in some of our players being invited to the A side, this is a great indicator of the hard work the boys have put in to their cricket. A special word of thanks to the parents for their unconditional support throughout the year.

How very proud the boys were to finish the season having won nine of the 10 matches played. This term, the team was in particularly fine form. All five games played this term were won by comfortable margins. Each member of the team had a chance to contribute, both as a bowler and as a batsman in every game. Catching became something of a specialty for this team; boys seemed to relish the opportunity of being in a catching position and hardly ever let the team down when offered an opportunity. It would be fantastic to see these boys continuing to put pressure on the batsmen through attacking the 4th stump, a focus of our bowling this year.

Overall the boys had a satisfactory season, which was guided by great sportsmanship. There was a noticeable improvement in their skills, in all aspects of the game. The confidence was high and, as a result, we only lost one game to a formidable school that had only one cricket team per age group. Captaincy was shared amongst the boys to promote respect and also to help develop their leadership skills. I hope that they will embrace what we have developed as a team and make their season at U12 level another exciting and entertaining one. Thanks must also go to all the parents who attended and supported the side.

I was impressed with the way we built on the solid foundations we had laid for ourselves with good results during matches and a great work ethic during practice sessions. As a team we achieved a lot in terms of maturing as cricketers and our ability to apply sustained pressure on the opposition with tight bowling and good fielding. Our bowling attack came a long way in terms of outwitting batsmen with a combination of skill and sheer patience. We possess a strong batting line up, and we made numerous starts as individuals, but failed to capitalise and make game-changing scores. This can certainly be a challenge for each and every batsman in this team going forward. Don't rest on your laurels once you have reached the thirties, but turn the hard work of a firm foundation into a substantial knock. Ethan Probert came into the team as a very useful leg spinner who terrorizes batsmen with his bounce and turn. Andrew Dallas was the rock around which many a partnership was built. He is technically sound and has the ability to pace his innings well. In Dylan de Groot we have a very agile keeper who can up the run rate when needed. Who will forget his six at Stanmore that landed in some neighbour's living room? Thomas Jacobs is a very reliable seam bowler with the knack of taking wickets when the team needs a breakthrough. Sebastian Griffiths is an openings batsman with a good technique. Many a bowler realised very quickly that he is not one to bowl short and wide to. His cut shot is certainly up there with the best I have seen at this level. Nicholas Alison is our all-rounder in the mold of Freddie Flintoff; big, strong and intimidating with the ability to take the game away from you within a flash. Liam Winstain had a good season with the bat and ball. He certainly puts the team on the front foot with his aggressive approach. Jack Crafford is a middle order batsman with a great eye for the loose delivery. I was impressed with the way he knuckled down in order to become a better all-rounder. Matthew Brodziak is our reliable swing bowler and his consistency with the ball frustrated many batsmen. He is a very clever bowler with patience as one of the many weapons in his arsenal. Kashief Jacobs showed great progress in his quest for consistency with the bat. He grew in confidence tremendously as the year progressed. I see a bright future for him as a top order batsman. Cole Crawford is a no-nonsense cricketer who intimidates the opposition with his ability to hit the ball clean and hard. His positive attitude stood him in good stead. In terms of results we had our ups and downs, but the boys could never be faulted for enthusiasm and work ethic. These boys came a long way as cricketers and will continue to grow in the future. Keep working hard and you will reap the benefits. I would like to thank the parents for their support throughout the season.

It was an excellent final term of cricket with the boys losing only one match, and starting to play exciting cricket. This is a reflection on the hard work they put in during training sessions. I enjoyed coaching them and look forward to seeing some wonderful cricketers in the future. Thanks to all the parents for their support.

Congratulations must go out to all the boys for a most successful and enjoyable cricket season. They learned quickly about the importance of spending more time at the crease and being able to play with a straighter bat. I was also very pleased to see how quickly the bowlers learned the importance of being able to bowl consistently on the off side. The fielding was of a high standard, although there is always room for improvement in this aspect of the game. I look forward to following the progress of these lads and hope to see some of them playing in an A team at some stage in the future.

It has been gratifying to see the tremendous progress made by the boys in this team.

They have developed an appreciation for the game and have also gained a much improved understanding of how the game is played.

Their knowledge of the positions on the field is better, as well as their understanding of the terminology. Most encouraging has been the improvement in the boys' bowling. They have bowled much straighter and conceded far fewer wides. Consequently, they have also been more competitive. While not winning many of their matches, the result was often in dispute until the final over or two. At the end of the day, it has all been about having fun and enjoyment, and this group has certainly experienced that, both in matches and at practices.

The team had a respectable season with plenty of ups and downs. There were exciting encounters with local rivals SACS and Rondebosch. Many of the squad members have showed some extremely strong play at the crease. Overall the season was a valuable platform for each and every boy hoping to play U11 cricket next year. I might also add that collectively our catching skills were the team's top quality this season, which I'm sure is a result of all the work committed to this part of the game done in training. Any coach looking to select squads will look for these sorts of basic skills in a player. Overall the season was an enjoyable one for everyone involved. I would hereby like to thank the boys for the way they conducted themselves week in and week out throughout the season.

Great fun was had by the 58 boys who played cricket this year. After the initial trials at the start of the season, the boys were divided into six teams - Cobras, Dolphins, Knights, Lions, Sharks and the Titans. Every Tuesday afternoon the teams played matches at WPCC against other schools. It was very rewarding for all the coaches to witness the incredible development of each player during these matches. Thursday afternoon was our official practice day on the Woodlands Astro. At these sessions boys were taught the basics of bowling, batting, fielding and sportsmanship by experienced cricket coaches who also coach in the higher age groups. The boys were also exposed to our professional cricket coach, Neil Carter, in the indoor cricket centre at the College on Friday afternoon. This hour was voluntary and the boys who attended regularly certainly benefitted and improved tremendously from the extra practice. They were also exposed to hard ball cricket at these sessions to prepare them for the next year. I am indeed indebted to Matthew Riches, Chris Ekron, Willem Louw and Greg Shuttleworth who worked tirelessly at every practice session to improve the skills of these enthusiastic cricketers. Luke Jacobs and Thami Siko umpired every Tuesday at the WPCC and also contributed immensely to the development of the players they looked after. The parents must also be thanked for their support and encouragement throughout the season.

SWIMMING

What a successful term of swimming we have had. Our squads from U9 to U14 have worked extremely hard in the afternoons under the guidance of Viv Williams and it has been very evident to see the improvements in their stroke, diving, turning and breathing techniques. This has been helped by the heating of the pool, covering of the pool in the evenings and the dedicated work shown by Mr Wolfhardt and his team to ensure our water is crystal clear and the envy of all other schools in our zone.

On the swimming front, we took part in an A and B league gala this term and performed very well in both. In the A league gala, hosted by Rondebosch Boys, we finished 2nd overall missing out narrowly to SACS by only two points. We swam in 30 races achieving 11 first places, six second places, nine third places and only four fourth places. The B league gala hosted at Bishops saw our swimmers turn the tables on SACS, beating them by two points to take the honours in magnificent fashion. The boys swam beautifully and had to work hard to beat some very stiff competition. Our U7, U8 and U9 swimmers enjoyed their annual SQUID gala hosted at SACS. Despite the terrible weather and the rain, they did their school proud and achieved some amazing results indeed. It has been wonderful to see the commitment amongst our swimmers this term. Putting the time into training, listening to advice and implementing it effectively are some of the reasons for the vast improvement in our results this term.

A huge thank you to all our swim coaches. Your passion and dedication towards ensuring development and improvement in our swimmers is admirable and I can't thank you enough for all you have done this year to support both me and our swimmers. I would like to thank Caleb Oliphant and Luke Shuttleworth, our swimming captain and vice-captain, for their leadership, commitment, support and motivation of our swimmers. They have been superb ambassadors for the sport and lead by example throughout the season.

WATER POLO

The team produced excellent water polo during the first term culminating in a silver medal at the Grey Junior Tournament. Our preparation for the fourth term was very good; boys regularly attended the post-rugby season sessions juggling time between, soccer and cricket practices. Sadly our performance at the SACS Tournament was rather disappointing when based on our achievements in Port Elizabeth. Our boys learnt valuable lessons that will stand them in good stead in their future sporting careers. It is vital to treat each game as important, teams improve as the season progresses, respect of opposition is very important and that personal aspirations need to be incorporated into the team's goals. There is no doubt that there is an abundance of talent in this group. Their willingness to absorb advice and enthusiastic work ethic will ensure that they go on to reach new heights at College and beyond. As in all things balance is key and I encourage them not to become "one sport specialists", but rather to embrace a wide variety as this will enhance their sporting development.

Congratulations to the follow boys who represented WP polo at the Inter Provincial held in Cape Town at the end of the year: Caleb Oliphant (WPA), Jock Buchanan, Sam Hanssen and Jordan Watson (WPB).

Caleb Oliphant showing his power

Murray Southgate (OD) needs a special mention in the role he has played over the last three years with our U13 polo players. His coaching and nurturing has produced top polo players. We wish these boys all the best for their careers at the College.

All our teams played in age group festivals on Friday afternoons. These proved very popular as they allowed teams to play three and more games in an afternoon. The only negative was that it did make Friday afternoons very long! Our water polo is in a very good space with some very exciting new developments in the pipeline. We look forward to an exciting 2016.
